BIOGRAPHY

Lindsay B. Fathallah has extensive experience representing public and private companies in a wide variety of corporate, real estate, and commercial contracts and lending matters. She supports public and private companies in all aspects of contract services, including preparing and negotiating a full range of commercial agreements in the areas of manufacturing, supply and distribution, consulting, licensing information technology, and confidentiality. Ms. Fathallah routinely works with in-house attorneys and business teams to efficiently complete contracting projects.

Ms. Fathallah also has significant experience representing business clients with mergers and acquisitions, including negotiation of deal terms and structures, drafting purchase agreements, due diligence review, financing and closings. She has also provided representation in business combination transactions, corporate formation, reorganization, and corporate governance matters.

Ms. Fathallah focuses her real estate practice on acquisition and sale transactions, development, leasing, and financing for all types of commercial properties. Her experience includes negotiating and preparing hundreds of commercial leases for retail, office, industrial and warehouse space; drafting purchase and sale agreements, easements and restrictive covenants; and reviewing and resolving title and survey issues.

Ms. Fathallah also represents borrowers and lenders in structuring, negotiating and implementing secured and unsecured financing transactions, including real estate loans secured by borrower mortgages, term loan, revolving loan and letter of credit facilities, asset-based financings, and senior and subordinated debt transactions.
