“I’ve worked as in-house and outside counsel for manufacturers, and, prior to becoming an attorney, as a field sales executive for two of the largest pharma companies. This experience lets me partner more effectively and apply economic thinking to contracts and contract dispute resolution.”

For more than 20 years, Angenette has provided clients in the manufacturing, technology, and service sectors with clear, practical, and highly effective legal counsel.

Over the course of her 13-year tenure as in-house counsel, she served as the lead commercial attorney for senior level executives at a Fortune Global 500® corporation and a privately held industrial manufacturer of glass, automotive, and building products. Angenette led “plain English” training sessions on numerous legal topics, including general contracting, creating contract “optionality,” and understanding contractual rights and obligations.

Her practice at MWH focuses on contract support, and includes analyzing, negotiating, and drafting long-term supply agreements, pricing agreements, distribution agreements, joint development agreements, ER&D agreements, asset purchase and sale agreements, letters of intent and memoranda of understanding, non-disclosure agreements, performance warranty provisions, general terms and conditions, and other commercial matters.

Angenette’s commercial transactions and contract support experience includes the negotiation and drafting of:

- Automotive (OEM, Tier 1, Tier 2, and Tier 3) contracts related to production and non-production procurement.
- Automotive OEM global terms and conditions of purchase and Automotive (Tier 1, Tier 2, and Tier 3) global terms and condition of purchase and sale.
- Automotive OEM strategic alliance and development agreements, including a development agreement among a Fortune Global 500® corporation and three other Automotive OEMs for the development and manufacture of certain powertrain components.
